LOGNOTE -- Chief, Operations Group, 5 December 1985

1. [] Following from this morning's staff meeting:

- The IG has so far provided feedback only on Ops and the field. Feedback on Prod, AG and the staffs is expected by 11 December. Consumer surveys are going on now. The entire team will report to D/FBIS and DD/FBIS on 20 December to review the report and their proposed recommendations.
- One question raised by the IG concerns substantive selection. They feel that the job descriptions for DR editors and the people they interviewed don't match as far as substantive expertise goes. The main beef about substantive issues seems to have come from JPRS, however, the feeling being that there is extensive overselection. In this context, P&PD has been meeting with FBIS on publication volumes following automation. The Xyvision publication system in P&PD will require 13 more staff officers. This is a DDA budget item. Some page limitations both for JPRS and the DR will have to be established as a modernization goal. D/FBIS appointed a committee with [] as Chairman, and including [] to study these issues, possibly recommending alternate distribution systems in addition to the traditional ones.
